FCCMH Fellow Awards Presentation

Door Prizes

► General Session

Innovate, Adapt, Succeed – Keys To Positioning For Success In A Changing Market

Monica Oss, Chief Executive Officer and Senior Associate, Open MINDS, Gettysburg, PA

Strategy in today's shifting market is all about change. But, change to what? Join Monica E. Oss, Chief Executive Officer of OPEN MINDS, for a look at the issues facing executive teams in charting a path to sustainability in a changing health and human service landscape. In this opening session, get an up-to-the minute update on the factors that are shaping organizational strategy and how to map your organization's path to success.

10 Concurrent Workshops • 10:30 am – 12:00 pm

Exploring Best Practices: The Use of Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing in the Treatment of Trauma

Grand Cypress A

Jennifer Barr, MSW, LCSW, FACT Team Leader, Apalachee Center, Inc., Tallahassee, FL

Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR) is one of the most recognized evidenced-based practices utilized for the treatment of trauma and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. This presentation will provide participants with a background of the model, as well as research supporting its efficacy. The EMDR process will be explored and participants will gain an understanding of how patients are treated using EMDR. Case examples will be provided throughout the presentation to demonstrate the phases of EMDR treatment.

Facility System Treatment, Unlocking Recovery Behind the Gates

Regency 1 & 2

Angela K. Geisinger, MEd, Education Director, GEO Group Inc, Graceville, FL

Graceville Correctional Facility is contracted to provide Intensive Outpatient Treatment to adult male offenders. We watched as inmates quickly returned to the facility after reentering society. The inmates/clients usually had the same response, "No one was there to tell me to get up and go to group." The clients although given the skills and tools necessary for recovery, had sat in mandated groups five days a week. "Fake it to make it" however is all too real. This session presents outside of the box thinking, and place recovery in the client's hands. Clients are accountable for their own recovery. It is up to each individual to decide how to schedule their treatment.

Supportive Housing: Options to Support Treatment and Recovery

Regency 5-7

Jack Humburg, MA, CRC, Director of Housing Development and ADA Services, Boley Centers, Inc., St. Petersburg, FL

Thomas J Griffin, PhD, CAP, Chief Executive Officer, The Transition House, Inc., St. Cloud, FL

Supportive housing is the linkage of quality affordable housing with personalized supportive services. This session will highlight two organizations that are providing housing options to support individuals in recovery.

Lifestyle, Relationships, Attitudes, Emotions, and Substance Use (LRAES) Approach to Recovery

Regency 3 & 4

Lorna Thomas, CAP, RD, PhD, LMHC, Clinical Director, Hope Now Transition Centers, Bartow, FL

Jason Tanner, MA, LMHC, Clinician, Hope Now Transition Centers, Bartow, FL

Ann L. Chapman, LMHC, CAP, Clinical Supervisor, Hope Now Transition Centers, Bartow, FL

This workshop will introduce the LRAES approach of recovery and allow clinicians to discover the factors that lead clients to relapse. This approach is based on Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) which is an evidence-based practice. Learn how each client has followed specific patterns that involve their lifestyle, relationships, attitudes, emotions, and substance use (LRAES). Practitioners will gain the skills necessary to answer the client's question of "why" in regards to their self-destructive behaviors. This approach will allow both counselor and client to have a clear awareness of how the client is progressing in recovery and identify interfering factors leading towards the relapse pattern. Clinicians will leave encouraged having not only a thorough understanding of addiction but having the ability to identify more clearly how recovery should look within the individuals they serve.

Therapeutic Use of Humor in Recovery

Magnolia

Lori A. Green RN, DNP, Doctorate in Nursing, Assistant Professor, Bethune Cookman University, Deltona, FL

A how-to for the mental health clinician regarding use of humor. Humor is an essential aspect in health and healing. Participants will be able to define therapeutic and nontherapeutic humor in the patient/professional relationship, explore cultural differences in the use of humor, and become able to identify physiological and psychological changes when a client is exposed to humor as a therapeutic tool.

From Strategic Plan To Tech Strategy: How To Select, Implement, & Leverage The Technology Your Organization Needs To Succeed

Palm

Monica E. Oss, Chief Executive Officer, OPEN MINDS, Gettysburg, PA

In the new world of health and human services, technology is more than a back office function - it's an integral part of best practice management and consumer service delivery. How do executive teams go about deciding what technology investments make sense? What are the best practices to assure that your technology investments provide the return-on-investment and edge in the marketplace that is needed for success? Join Monica E. Oss, CEO of OPEN MINDS, for this how-to session on technology management in the changing market.

Interdisciplinary Chronic Pain Rehabilitation Program and Treatment Outcomes for Veterans

Grand Cypress B

Nicolle Angeli, PhD, Clinical Psychology, James A Haley VAMC, Tampa, FL

This presentation will focus on the nature of the interdisciplinary, inpatient, chronic pain rehabilitation program at the James A Haley VAMC. It will include a description of our patient population, presenting issues, program requirements, rehabilitation efforts, and treatment.

Peer Power: Engaging Families in a Vision of Hope

Regency 8 & 9

Silvia M. Quintana, LMHC, CAP, Chief Executive Officer, Broward Behavioral Health Coalition, Fort Lauderdale, FL

Jennifer Holtz, LMHC, CHC, CQI Manage, Broward Behavioral Health Coalition, Fort Lauderdale, FL

Skye Maxine Cleek, MSW, Supervisor, Henderson Behavioral Health, Fort Lauderdale, FL

Kris Ferraro, CRPS-A, Peer Advocate - Henderson FEP (Family Engagement Program), Fort Lauderdale, FL

A Broward Behavioral Health Coalition (BBHC) priority is successful integration between child welfare and behavioral health. The Behavioral Health and Child Welfare Integrated Recovery Initiative is a coordinated system that includes the Broward Sheriff's Office (BSO) Child Protection Unit (CPI), ChildNet (local CBC), Broward's SAMH provider network, certified peer specialist services, BBHC, and DCF. A key component of this initiative is the Family Engagement Program (FEP). The primary goal of FEP is to ensure families identified by BSO CPIs with parents presenting SAMH problems that put children at risk of harm are linked to clinically appropriate services that produce positive outcomes and facilitate recovery. These efforts include needed healthcare, childcare, shelter placement, food, clothing, and any other resources to promote wellness for the family.

Texas Christian University Mapping Enhanced Counseling Tools in Substance Abuse Treatment

Poinciana

Wayne Lehman, MD, Florida Association of Recovery Residences

This presentation will discuss cognitive tools for enhancing substance abuse treatment, specifically the Texas Christian University (TCU) Mapping Enhanced Counseling tools. Mapping enhanced counseling is an evidence-based graphic representation strategy used to visually enhance the counseling process, both between counselors and client(s), or as part of the presentation and implementation of TCU intervention manuals. It is included in the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) National Registry of Evidence-based Programs and Practices (NREPP). Mapping is an effective strategy for increasing client motivation, engagement, participation, and retention in treatment by promoting more positive interactions with other clients and treatment staff. It facilitates communication, memory, and problem-solving during counseling sessions and helps document progress both within and between sessions. This presentation will include a brief introduction and primer to mapping principles, evidence for mapping effectiveness, and an overview of TCU intervention manual.

Using Constructivist Therapies in a Medical Model World

Grand Cypress C

Thomas Hofmann, PhD, LCSW, CEAP, CPP, Professor/EAP Counselor, Hodges University/SW FL. EAP, Fort Myers, FL

Most of us are trained to diagnose and work within a medical model of searching out deficits and labeling them. This process is necessary in order for us to understand the client's situation and communicate with other professionals and those who reimburse our work. The premise is that we can all agree on the same reality. Yet, the emergence of constructivist approaches such as Solution Focused Therapy and Narrative Therapy depend upon our understanding that reality is different for each person. Each constructivist approach recommends consistent application of a strength based framework personalized for that client only which avoids or de-emphasizes medical model based pathology. This workshop will examine ways to work consistently in a strength based way with our client while keeping track of our diagnostic and problem focused trains of thought which our agencies and practices require.

CEU/Contact Hours and Certificates of Attendance

Approximately 20.5 CEU/Contact Hours will be available for attending both the Pre-Conference and the Annual Conference from the Florida Alcohol and Drug Abuse Association (FADAA) and the Florida Council for Community Mental Health (FCCMH). FADAA and FCCMH are approved providers for the following authorities:

- FADAA is a board-approved provider for:
  - Florida Board of Clinical Social Work, Marriage and Family Therapy and Mental Health Counseling (#50-676)
  - Florida Board of Nursing Contact Hours (#50-676)
  - Florida Certification Board, noted as FCB, (#A-001)
- FCCMH is a board-approved provider for:
  - Florida Board of Clinical Social Work, Marriage and Family Therapy and Mental Health Counseling (#50-1836)
  - Florida Board of Psychology (Continuing Education Units available only for selected workshops as noted on the CEU Log) (#50-1836)

11 Concurrent Workshops • 1:30 pm – 3:00 pm

What Clinicians Need to Know About Technology

La Coquina

Laurence Roberts, CIO, Gulf Coast Jewish Family and Community Services, Clearwater, FL
Daniel DeFrank, Senior VP for Clinical Services, Gulf Coast Jewish Family and Community Services, Clearwater, FL

To many clinicians EHRs, Hub, Spoke, telehealth, and disconnected solutions provoke more negativism than positive clinical solutions. These technologies however, can increase your productivity and improve client outcomes. This workshop will provide you with the opportunity to learn how these technologies and others are being applied in clinical settings and Medicaid. There may be pitfalls, but solutions will be offered.

Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation

Magnolia

Debbie Burton, ARNP, Winter Haven Hospital, Inc., Winter Haven, FL
Ruta Morgenthau, MS, Winter Haven Hospital, Inc., Winter Haven, FL
Laura Stanley, LPN, TMS Specialist, Winter Haven Hospital, Inc., Winter Haven, FL

Transcranial Magnetic Therapy (TMS) is a non-invasive medical treatment for patients with depression who have not benefitted from antidepressant therapy. Highly focused magnetic pulses stimulate specific areas of the brain thought to control mood. TMS causes neurons to become active, leading to the release of neurotransmitters, to relieve symptoms of depression.

Parenting with Love and Limits: An Evidence-Based Model for Engaging Resistant Parents

Grand Cypress A

John Joseph Burek III, MS in Criminal Justice Administration, President, Parenting with Love and Limits, Lakeland, FL
Monti Dean Sommer, MBA, Director of Implementation, Parenting with Love and Limits, Lakeland, FL

According to the latest research, active parental participation is the missing link to preventing high risk juveniles from entering commitment or relapsing once they transition back into the community from institutional treatment. Parenting with Love and Limits (PLL), an evidence-based model, will illustrate three unique ways to engage the parents to prevent relapse: (1) A unique combination of group and family therapy to teach parents missing core skills; (2) motivational interviewing tactics and the clear boundaries to quickly engage families; and (3) recognizing the direct link between unresolved trauma and delinquent behavior and actively treating unhealed wounds.

Building Bridges for Success: Healthcare Integration Strategies for Case Management

Mark Rosenberg, PhD, President and CEO, BHM Healthcare Solutions, St. Louis, MO

Individualized Care Management (ICM) is a crucial part in the successful, holistic treatment of patients who present with complex cases involving primary care/behavioral health comorbidities. Treating patients who suffer from depression or other complex conditions can be challenging. This challenge is often further exasperated by a gap between the provision of primary care and behavioral health services, which can make an integrated approach difficult for case managers to coordinate. In order to overcome these treatment obstacles, it is of pivotal importance that case managers familiarize themselves with the Integrated Case Management Model, and gain an understanding of holistic treatment.

Community-based Treatment Alternatives for Justice-involved Youth in Child Welfare— One Year Follow-up

Regency 8 & 9

Norin Dollard, PhD, Assistant Professor, CFS FMHI USE, Tampa, FL

Kimberly McGrath, PsyD, Clinical Coordinator of Foster Care Plus, Citrus Health Network, Hialeah, FL

Mary Armstrong, PhD, Associate Professor, CFS FMHI USE, Tampa, FL

John Robst, PhD, Associate Professor, MHLP FMHI USE, Tampa, FL

A model of enhanced therapeutic foster care for justice-involved youth with emotional and behavioral disorders in child welfare has been implemented in Miami. This presentation will describe the program model description of enrolled youth and one year cross-system outcomes.

Developing Collaboration and Partnerships In an Evolving Managed Care System

Regency 3 & 4

Carol Barr Platt, MSW, Acting Bureau Chief, Agency for Health Care Administration, Tallahassee, FL

This session shares the experiences of the Statewide Managed Care Behavioral Health Meeting participants' road to collaboration and partnerships. The group was developed to provide an opportunity for the managed care organizations (MCOs), behavioral health care providers, and stakeholders to come together to discuss any issues and concerns related to the implementation of managed care as it relates to behavioral health/mental health. The goals of the group are to identify and provide the most appropriate quality services and the best access to care available for Medicaid recipients in need.

Navigating New Certification Standards and Processes

Regency 5-7

Pamela Waters, MEd, Director of Operations, Florida Certification Board, Tallahassee, FL

The Florida Certification Board has revamped many of the certification applications, standards, and processes for application and testing. This session will explore these changes, as well as provide guidance for use of their new online Customer Portal. Participants will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Implementing Evidence-Based Practices for Culturally Diverse Communities

Regency 1 & 2

Michael Dozier, MA, Principal, Carrington, Holland & Leigh, LLC, Madison, MS

This training provides an overview of a framework for implementing and building culturally competent individuals, programs, and organizations for community-based coalitions that serve at risk families. The session will address why cultural competence is important and the essential key ingredients needed to fully incorporate an effective cultural competence environment.

Excellence in Mental Health Act: Where Do We Go From Here?

Grand Cypress C

Rebecca Farley, Director of Policy and Advocacy, National Council for Behavioral Health, Washington, DC

The Excellence in Mental Health Act demonstration program is the most significant investment in the community behavioral health system in decades. But wait – what does the demonstration program mean for mental health and substance use providers? Join the National Council's policy expert to get the 4-1-1 on the new law and how it will affect service delivery and payment. You'll learn about new enhanced payment standards and certification criteria for Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics and understand the benefits these changes could bring to your organization and state. Get an overview of the implementation process and discuss concrete strategies you can use now to ensure your state is ready to apply.

Expanding Access to Substance Abuse and Mental Health Treatment for Veterans and Their Families

Palm

Col. Bruce Grant, Facilitator

Douglas Leonardo, Executive Director, BayCare Behavioral Health, New Port Richey, FL

Col. Peter Duffy, J.D., Retired

United States Representative Bilirakis (invited)

This panel brings together representatives of national and veteran service organizations and behavioral healthcare leaders to discuss issues related to expanding access to behavioral healthcare for veterans and military families.

The Responsivity Factor-Designing Programs for Success

Poinciana

Steve Tomlin, Vice President, Eastern Region, Community Education Centers, Allentown, PA

A panel presentation in honor of the late Ed Roberts. This presentation will cover the evolution of correctional substance abuse treatment from the era of “nothing works” into today’s “what works”! A comprehensive look at tailoring treatment to need, inclusive of the differences in treating criminal justice clients, versus “free world” treatment. This presentation will culminate in an overview of TC concepts and how they are adaptable to individuals with different disabilities.

Behavioral Health National Perspective

Grand Cypress D-I

Rebecca Farley, Director of Policy and Advocacy, National Council for Behavioral Health, Washington, DC

Over the last year our field has achieved several long-sought goals, passing the Excellence in Mental Health Act, increasing funding for the Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Block Grant, establishing federal grants for Mental Health First Aid training for teachers and school staff, blocking a Medicare proposal to revoke protected status for mental health drugs, and more. How will these changes affect the way your organization does business, and what else is ahead for substance use and mental health providers? Learn about current trends in federal behavioral health policy and their implications for our field.

From Harvard to Hell...and Back: A Doctor's Journey through Addiction to Recovery

Grand Cypress D-I

Sylvester “Skip” Sviokla, MD, ABAM, Medical Assisted Recovery, Warwick, RI

Dr. Sylvester “Skip” Sviokla lived life as a successful, driven, athletic, and brilliant graduate of Harvard Medical School, reveling in wealth and glamour as a “celebrity doctor” until addiction brought his life crashing down. This real-life “Dr. House” had it all (he thought) until addiction took everything. Miraculously, recovery gave him back his family, his self-respect, and certification from the American Society of Addiction Medicine. He is now a Diplomate of the American Board of Addiction Medicine and a staff orientation speaker for Rhode Island Hospital, where he talks to incoming physicians about the perils of substance abuse and addiction in the medical community. He has been the medical director of several methadone clinics in Rhode Island and co-owns a substance abuse clinic dedicated to helping others get well and regain their lives. He is the proud husband of Maurine and the father of a daughter Katherine, twin daughters Nicole and Amanda, and son Chip (aka Sylvester Sviokla IV). He is also the gratified grandpa to eight wonderful grandchildren who love him dearly and have never seen him impaired.

Updates in Schizophrenia: Research, Remission, and Recovery

Poinciana

Jasmin Johnson, PsyD, Sr. Medical Science Liaison, Otsuka America Pharmaceuticals, Inc., Daytona Beach, FL

This presentation provides an updated overview of several topics that are important in the management of schizophrenia, including the clinical, epidemiological, and health economic descriptions of schizophrenia, as well as, goals of therapy and treatment strategies. It also addresses the new scientific developments using imaging technology and that schizophrenia is thought to be a neurodevelopmental disorder, which, in some patients, is characterized by progressive brain tissue changes and loss.

Death in the Suburbs: How Heroin Has Changed Science, Treatment, and Recovery

Grand Cypress AB

Dr. Marvin Seppala, MD, Chief Medical Officer, Hazelden Betty Ford Foundation and Adjunct Professor, Hazelden Graduate School of Addiction Studies, Center City, MN

A just-published JAMA Psychiatry study, “The Changing Face of Heroin Use in the United States”, reveals that heroin users in treatment in the United States are predominately white (90%) and live in non-urban areas (75%) that are affluent. The theory is that heroin is more accessible and cheaper than prescription opioids and users deem the legal and safety risks worth it to continue to feed their addiction. Heroin users jumped from about 373,000 in 2007 to 669,000 in 2012, and the number of those with heroin “dependence or abuse” more than doubled from 2002 to 2012, going from about 214,000 to 467,000 in 10 years, forcing treatment centers to begin to adopt the use of medication for opioid dependence, tailor evidence-based therapies, and extend purposeful clinical interventions and engagement to support successful, self-driven recovery management.

A New Paradigm for Recovery

Grand Cypress DEF

Scott Teitelbaum, MD, Medical Director, Florida Recovery Center, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL

This session will review the fundamentals, including the neurobiology of the disease of addiction. Attendees will hear the current prescription drug and marijuana related issues. A discussion on the importance of the drug court system, how this relates to the impaired healthcare provider, and how we now look at recovery will also be included in this workshop.

The non-medical use of medicinal drugs and other chemicals is a direct or indirect cause of many encounters between patients and treatment/prevention specialists. Often the drugs being abused go by a variety of slang names which immediately identify the agent involved or its corresponding toxicity. It is important for the practitioner to stay abreast of the current drugs being used and the various conditions under which they are taken. The purpose of this presentation is to discuss current use patterns of drugs among the recreational drug users and their corresponding toxic properties.

More specifically, drugs that previously dominated the abuse scene have taken a back seat to newer, more dangerous drugs. Synthetic cannabinoids have proven to be a particularly dangerous group of compounds and synthetic cathinones (aka Bath Salts) are even more toxic. This seminar is designed to update the attendee on emerging trends in non-medical use of drugs.

What Works in Reducing Recidivism: Understanding the Principles of Effective Intervention

Palm

Ed Latessa, PhD, Professor and Director, School of Criminal Justice, University of Cincinnati, Blue Ash, OH

This workshop will provide participants with an understanding of the principles of effective correctional interventions and will emphasize the value and utility of employing evidence-based and research-driven practices in planning, administering, and evaluating correctional programs.

Medication-Assisted Treatment

Regency Hall 1-4

Sylvester “Skip” Sviokla, MD, ABAM, , Medical Assisted Recovery, Warwick, RI

The presentation will address the use of Suboxone and other medications as treatment modalities to promote recovery. The presentation will also address the role of the physician and his interaction with the other staff members in an integrated care setting.

5 Concurrent Mini Plenaries • 10:45am – 12:15pm

Understanding Risk and Need Assessment

Palm

Ed Latessa, PhD, Professor and Director, School of Criminal Justice, University of Cincinnati, Blue Ash, OH

This presentation will focus on why offender assessment is so important in correctional intervention. Participants will learn about the principles of effective classification and assessment, how they were derived, and how they are applied. As part of this workshop the empirical evidence concerning several questions will be addressed including:

What are the principles of effective offender assessment ?

How assessment improves program effectiveness.

Dr. Elk provides straightforward information on how PTSD/psychological trauma results from a natural physiological response to threat that causes disruption in the way memory is stored. The fragmented memory causes reactivation of the traumatic response when encountered later (triggered). Dr. Elk will provide an overview of current treatments available to veterans/service members and the method that she has found to be most effective and preferred by the veterans she serves.

The Colorado Experience

Grand Cypress DEF

Chief Lewis Koski, Director of the Marijuana Enforcement Division of the Colorado Department of Revenue, Denver, CO

Lewis Koski, Director of the Marijuana Enforcement Division of the Colorado Department of Revenue, will discuss some of the experiences and challenges that Colorado has faced in its effort to implement Amendment 64. Director Koski will also provide an update on how the first six months of retail marijuana legalization have gone since January 1, 2014.

Helping and Healing Child Welfare Involved Families: Can We Get There From Here?

Poinciana

Pamela Petersen-Baston, MPA, CAP, CPP, Consultant, Solutions Of Substance, Inc., Columbus, NC

Ms Petersen-Baston will take participants on a virtual tour of a day in the life of child welfare involved families with substance use and/or co-occurring mental health disorders and examine what is known about the depths of trauma and other challenges they face. Next, the virtual tour will review the adequacy of current approaches used with these families and consider additional approaches and supports including the powerful concepts of health, hope, and healing. Lastly, the presenter will challenge participants to consider enhancing their role in transforming care for these families.

Professional Recovery Coaches, Neuroscience and Heroic Results: Reimagining Your Practice Beyond Pathology

Regency Hall 1-4

Jean LaCour, PhD, President/CEO, NET Institute, Daytona Beach, FL

Professional Coaching is to the 21st century what counseling was to the 20th and is part of the new norm in addiction services. It empowers people to start their sober life on a solid footing and energizes people in long term recovery from addiction or codependency to experience new levels of satisfaction and purpose. The strengths-based focus of the coaching relationship itself is uniquely suited for enhancing resiliency and imparting non-clinical skills that are able to shift neural activity away from toxic cravings and related behaviors (lower-order brain functions) to the brain relationally-based executive control center. Rise Professional Recovery Coaching emphasizes self-regulation through essential quieting, mindfulness, and appreciation states which restore relational brain circuits, plus solution focused questioning, motivational enhancement, discerning thinking errors, planning, and envisioning change.

where learning points to knowledge

With a 34-year successful history as the oldest criminal justice substance abuse treatment provider for adult male and female offenders in the State of Florida, Bridges of America's unwavering purpose has been a commitment to providing thousands of felony criminals the opportunity for rehabilitation and reintegration into their communities as law-abiding and tax-paying citizens.

Our program was established on the holistic approach to recovery, and is predicated on the 12-Step Model. We continue to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of our programs while increasing the quality of care for the people we serve.

We believe people can change.
